Domain Road Reopens

Domain Road between St Kilda Road and Dallas Brooks Drive will reopen to traffic and cyclists from the afternoon of Monday 14 October. Both right turn and left turn to St Kilda Road will be available. The left turn from St Kilda Road to Domain Road will also be reopened, but there is no right turn from St Kilda Road to Domain Road.

New Domain Road bus stops

In the coming months, bus Route 605 will extend further along Domain Road with two new stops.

The Route 58 tram will continue to run along Toorak Road West, providing a shorter and direct path to St Kilda Road and maintaining the same platform interchange for citybound passengers at the Anzac Station tram stop.

We know the Metro Tunnel will change the way people use public transport services in the Anzac precinct.

PTV planning will consider new travel patterns once the Metro Tunnel opens – as well as community feedback, infrastructure requirements and vehicle movements in the area before making a decision on the delivery and timing of any network changes.
